Promoting Spiritual and Human Development	The pathway provided by the policy for student access to the Transition Year Programme supports and promotes the spiritual and human development of students.
Showing Respect for Every Person	By providing further opportunities through an elective programme for students to achieve and reach their potential, the policy promotes an environment whereby each person is respected, and the dignity of each person is valued.
Creating Community	The policy enables students take an educational programme which specifically supports close collaboration between students and between students and their teachers and thus creates community within the college.
Achieve Quality in Teaching and Learning	By providing access to an elective programme designed to harness student growth and the development of a wide range of educational experiences both in the college and local community, the policy facilitates the achievement of quality in teaching and learning.
Being Just and Responsible	The additional curricular and extra - curricular experiences available through the TY programme provide students with opportunities for the development and practice of a lifestyle based on justice and responsibility.
